

NATIONAL ELECTION WATCH (NEW)

A Coalition of Civic and Non-Governmental Organizations
8 Sawi Drive, Off King Harman Road, Freetown.

+232-76-737-231

nationalelectionwatchsl@gmail.com

www.nationalelectionwatchsl.org

2nd August, 2018

To Whom It May Concern

National Election Watch (NEW) is a coalition of Civil Society Organizations who have a common interest in engaging in elections and the electoral process in Sierra Leone through a range of activities (observation, election education, safety and security, oversight and organizational development). NEW's involvement in elections began at the 2002 elections and it has played a vital role to ensure fair and violence free 2007 Presidential and Parliamentary elections and the 2008 Local Council Elections. National Election Watch has established itself as a permanent group with a common desire and capacity to implement and works through a decentralized structure across the country. In 2011, through a consultative and participative process NEW developed a strategy for civil society organizations in Sierra Leone to better and more strategically position itself to engage with key stakeholders (GoSL, NEC, PPRC, SLP) in elections and the electoral cycle process in Sierra Leone. In 2017 through a consortium led NEW participated and observed the 2018 multi-tier elections

Network Movement for Democracy and Human Right (NMDHR) has been a member of National Election Watch (NEW) since its formation in 2002, and has been representing the organization as District Coordinator in the Western Urban district to roll out its activities across the Western Urban.

On behalf of National Election Watch (NEW) I would therefore recommend Network Movement for Democracy and Human Right (NMDHR) as a credible and registered organization in Sierra Leone.

Thanks for your support.

Yours Faithfully

076962233.

Contacts: Marcella Samba-Sesay +23276984590, James Lahai +23276962233, Ngolo Katta +23276606419